

(New York, NY) Step back in time and be transformed by the flair of 1950s Paris when two best friends decide to take matters into their own hands.

Meet the 'golden era' reminiscent "Fatigue Fourbu" played by Jackie Schiffer whose jaded attitude contrasts her ultra-feminine physique and the ultra sex "Dominique Joli" played by Julie D'Moure. With the help of their drunk but mild-mannered accompanist friend "Jean Paul Pierre" played by Musical Director Jeremy Rafal, the ladies bribe the Parisian police to kidnap Monsieur Leplee, the owner of the dingy Chez Leplee cabaret, so they can seize the stage for the cabaret of their lives.

Produced in collaboration with Dramatic Publishing, award-winning composer Gregg Opelka's 90 minute musical follows the triumphs and tragedies of everything from amour to acquittals. Sept 12th (9:30 PM) and September 13th (6:30 PM) mark the New York premiere of Opelka's francophone-tastic musical received by Chicago Critic as "refreshingly new, witty, funny and slickly sophisticated."

Directed by Andreas Hager, choreographed by Nia Woods and designed by Anna Yates, the show promises to delight musical theater fans, francophiles and anyone who's ever dreamed of New Jersey.
